Session E – Morning – Day One

11:18:31 From mike garnock-jones : welcome one and all- please post any questions in the chat thank you

11:30:04 From Shauna - University of Kent : Hi Nathan, we have been working with Ambassadors in the same way with them pre-recording videos for our online sessions. How have you found ways to continue to provide work opportunities for them now that the sessions have been made?

11:31:49 From George Gisborne : Young and white

11:31:56 From Janine : LAck of diversity

11:34:00 From Caterina : Hi Nathan, can I ask whether you are also planning on having student ambassadors take part in live sessions? Or are there safeguarding issues?

11:36:03 From Adam Young : Hi Nathan, particularly when considering sessions where the school connects via one computer connected to a projector (rather than learners dialling in themselves), how have you managed using interactive functions such as polls/ quizzes etc. when there is only one device that can participate? Does this affect the interactive nature compared to when learners dial in on their own devices?

11:36:04 From Sophie Hoyle (Manchester Access Programme) : Thanks for the interesting presentation - got lots of ideas from it. Is the peer-assisted learning for prospective students or current students?

11:36:05 From Cat Chapman : Hi Nathan, our organisation doesn't currently have a VLE like Blackboard or Canvas etc. We are struggling to collect data to track engagement of learners. Would you say using a programme like Blackboard was vital to the success of your engagement with students for online delivery?

11:36:10 From Shauna - University of Kent : I'd love to know more about how to create peer assisted learning with Ambassadors and students. This is the learning we're missing most and the best bits of our work. We haven't found a safe and sustainable way to recreate the chatty moments whilst at home. Our schools are struggling with live sessions

11:36:20 From Shauna - University of Kent : Thank you for sharing, Nathan

11:36:34 From George Gisborne : Does Derby have lack diversity in particular areas?

11:37:48 From Ant Sutcliffe : Seems like excellent work. Would be eager to see how we could help with some of this via our Higher Horizons Outreach Hub (Derby are non funded partners) for our cohorts across Staffs, Cheshire and Salop. Maybe I can pick it up with Krish

11:38:16 From Caterina : Thanks!

11:40:13 From Adam Young : That's great, thanks Nathan. Completely empathise with the time pressures!

11:41:05 From Poppy Hudghton : Have you been able to collect HEAT registers for such online sessions?

11:41:27 From Shauna - University of Kent : Are sessions designed for individual students on individual devices, or a whole class together? It's really interesting to learn about these sessions. We have struggled with students and classrooms not having access to devices in class

11:41:28 From George Gisborne : We have Poppy but don't get them all back

11:41:38 From Poppy Hudghton : Thanks, George - our experience too!

11:42:37 From Cat Chapman : Thank you this is really valuable.

11:42:56 From Jen L-H Sheffield Hallam : Thank you- really interesting.

11:43:04 From Daisy Robinson : thanks really interesting

11:58:16 From Daisy Robinson : Brilliant work, love the idea. what was included in the women in stem packs?

12:01:09 From Roisin Kendall : Brilliant numbers you reached what % of HEAT data did you obtain back?

12:10:42 From Sofia Hirscher : I would love to also get in touch if that would be ok as I think this could work amazing in Bradford :)

12:41:08 From s.marchment@kingston.ac.uk : Hi Hannah Was there any difference in your involvement of 1:1work as compared with group activity?

12:42:05 From s.marchment@kingston.ac.uk : Sorry that wsn't very clear how did you value the different online delivery models 1:1 compared with group?

12:43:21 From s.marchment@kingston.ac.uk : Some people may be put off by groupwork, prefer 1:1 what was your response?
