What is Design your Future?

A Different Approach to WWC:

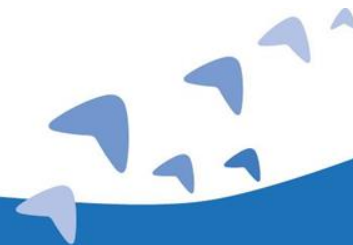

Women running a boys project!

We also haven't mentioned WWC!

Didn't try and elevate their 'class'?

One size does not fit all!

No sport!

What did we do?

So what did we do?

Individualised to their needs.

Tailored each session off the back of the last one.

‘You can’t be what you can’t see’ approach

Variety of activities offering all HE options

Programme outline:

Date	Location	Event
29th January	Central Community Centre	Launch All participants will come together for an exciting launch to the programme and will hear from the Study Higher team and an inspiring motivational speaker.
20th February	Central Community Centre	Where are you now? Your son will have the opportunity to reflect on his current skills and strengths, and areas he might want to develop as well as completing a series of interactive, team building activities.
20th March	Central Community Centre	Apprenticeships Carousel A chance to speak to local and national apprenticeship providers and find out about the exciting opportunities to progress to higher education through this pathway.
24th April	Central Community Centre	Revision Sessions Your son will get to grips with key study and revision skills that will help him secure the successful grades that he will need for his futures.
22nd May	Central Community Centre	HE: What's in it for you? Time to answer the big question - what's the advantage of progressing to Higher Education? Participants will hear from a range of speakers as they decide whether HE is the pathway for them.
19th June	Central Community Centre	Design Your Future With a wealth of knowledge about the options available to them, this session will give participants the chance to consider their options and design their pathway into the future.
10th July - tbc	Ruskin College, Oxford	Celebration A celebration of all of your son's hard work and progress over the course of the programme. We warmly invite yourself and your family to join us as we celebrate your son's achievements.
