Session B – Day Two

01:49:57 Hannah Merry: If anyone has questions for Liberty or Stephanie please do add them here

01:55:17 Rita Dattani: we are trying to use virtual work experience for younger students, have you or anyone done anything similar?

01:55:25 Messiah: is it possible to share further details on the programme design and how the groups of students worked together?

01:55:43 Ant Sutcliffe: The university that I work at have just signed up for your programme. I'm just learning about plans. Are there CPD and embedding opportunities for University staff?

02:02:10 Harriet: Just wanted to say that the programme sounds really amazing, a fabulous opportunity in the midst of so much uncertainty!

02:02:22 Liberty O'Hagan (upReach): Thank you Harriet!

02:02:38 Ant Sutcliffe: Thanks, makes sense

02:03:07 Rita Dattani: thank you

02:03:26 Hollie Baker: thank you very much!

02:03:34 Harriet: Thank you so much!

02:15:37 Hannah Merry: If anyone has any questions please do ask them here!

02:24:29 Jacob: with the project being aimed at aspiring lawyers, how did you find recruiting students for the project?

02:28:10 George Gisborne: Did you have the challenge that any students wanted to drop out for whatever reason?

02:31:05 Harriet: Thank you so much!

02:59:22 Hannah Merry: If anyone has any questions for Emma and Dan do add them here

03:08:22 Jo Goodman - Aspire to HE: How did you manage to get different departments within the university on board and how can other universities make sure transition support is an institutional priority?

03:08:37 Leanne de Main: How did you get the funding for this? It's really great but can be really frustrating fighting for funding for such valuable initiatives.

03:09:40 Laura Whitelock: Are you planning on providing something similar for other WP groups transition?

03:13:34 Jo Goodman - Aspire to HE: Great insights, thank you :)

03:15:07 Laura Whitelock: Thank you both for sharing your insights!

03:15:19 Sophie Hoyle (Uni of Manchester): Thank you!

03:15:24 Emily Ridgley: Thank you, this was really interesting!

03:15:34 Leanne de Main: Really useful!

03:15:39 Emma Parr: Thanks for the nice comments :-)

03:17:22 Dickinsk: it has a train station

03:17:22 Fatmata Daramy: Its near Coventry...

03:17:32 Mairi McKinnon: nothing

03:17:34 Sue Edwards (Lancaster University): went to colelge there... a long time ago

03:17:36 Jo Goodman - Aspire to HE: Begins with an N.....

03:17:43 Jessica Adams (Hello Future): it probably has a Greggs?

03:17:45 Jessica Adams (Hello Future): Or a costa!

03:17:51 Sue Edwards (Lancaster University): haha- didn't help me learn to type!

03:17:59 Leanne de Main: It has two Greggs!!!!

03:17:59 Fatmata Daramy: Its quite a deprived area?

03:18:04 Kayleigh: Low participation neighbourhood

03:18:06 George Gisborne: Tony Blair's election strategy had something to do with 3 people in a living room in Nuneaton?

03:36:17 Hannah Merry: If you have any questions please add them here!

03:39:30 Karen Western: Really interesting that you mentioned parents having differing aspirations and may have seen their parenting being challenged/questioned . Did you address this in any way.

03:42:30 George Gisborne: Is there particular information about the long term benefits of studying HE that you found communicated well with prospective students? Websites etc

03:46:19 Dickinsk: thank you
