Session B – Morning – Day One

11:28:58 From Maria-Anna NEON : Hi All, any questions for the speakers, please write here, thank you

11:32:03 From Alison Jenkinson : What mechanisms were used to encourage the target audience to engage with the CPD material? How did people find out about it?

11:36:33 From Samantha Child : Fascinating but sadly have to go. Look forward to catching up with the slides. Many thanks

11:37:59 From Anisha Smith : A fantastic programme and the need was clearly demonstrated by the core insights. In the current climate we are limited on what we can offer face-to-face. Any suggestions for how we can emulate with restrictions in place at the moment?

11:43:58 From Anisha Smith : We tend to find that this target group can be quite difficult to engage, how did you get around this and what was the uptake like?

11:44:33 From Maria-Anna NEON : one more minute, thank you

11:46:11 From Anisha Smith : Thank you for your time and insight!

11:56:34 From s.marchment@kingston.ac.uk : Did you do any work with staff in schools to get a sense of their own awareness in relation to support available and their own belief in their SEND cohorts to progress? How they may play a part in highlighting support (in addition to HEI WP and disability support staff)?

12:00:44 From Maria-Anna NEON : Hi All, any questions for the speakers, please write here, thank you

12:06:49 From Ant Sutcliffe : Really interesting. I am getting a bit sick of middle class people telling our agenda that working class young people / care leavers etc 'lack resilience'. Never considered this an issue growing up in Stoke on Trent and you have some nice evidence here to help prove that our cohorts DO have resilience and aspirations, they need steering in the right way and clear pathways creating and not patronising! Great work GMH!

12:12:03 From Maria-Anna NEON : Hi All, the final session before lunch is in session E and starts at 12.15pm

12:12:26 From Dickinsk : fab work on this, have been looking to this activity at the institution I work at.

12:13:59 From Laura Pearson : Hi! If anyone is interested the Care leaver covenant is running an empathy summit and how best to work with care experienced students on the 29th Oct. as part of National care leavers week. It will be broadcast online and hosted by sue perkins. You can sign up here <https://mycovenant.org.uk/empathy-summit-event/>

12:16:39 From Dickinsk : Thanks everyone - very interesting From Margaret Greenfields : thanks Sam!
